Picture the superb amenity of a two-storey home attached to a boutique strata building and you are close to realising the unique nature of this special Bondi residence. Depicting a lifestyle where family interests and working from home can have their own space and simultaneously thrive. Designed to cater to young and old are the four bedrooms – two on each level – appointed with generous robes and supported by abundant storage in the common areas. There is also a deep wraparound media room with its own entrance, offering the perfect office or creative space set away from the buzz of the main home. This prospect is unlike anything else on the market, set only metres from green space at Dickson Park, close to Bondi Road's cafes and conveniences, and a stroll from Bondi Beach and Bondi Junction's lively commercial and transport precinct.
