55 Victoria Street, Potts Point

Sold

This landmark freestanding villa commands breathtaking views across the city skyline, Harbour Bridge and Opera House from a prominent position on the ridge of Potts Point. Constructed in the 1870s for Charles Elouis, Deputy Master of the Royal Sydney Mint, the residence is a rare architectural gem steeped in Sydney's heritage. Adjacent to the historic McElhone Stairs, it unites its Victorian origins with a meticulous modern restoration, delivering sophistication, grandeur and versatility across four expansive levels. Generous proportions, elegant detailing and multiple living and entertaining zones ensure it functions as both a luxurious sanctuary and a celebrated piece of the city's pedigree. With secure parking, sweeping views and a prestigious location, this extraordinary home is one of Sydney's most significant heritage offerings.

Property Features:

- Historic 1870s villa commissioned for Charles Elouis family
- Iconic State Heritage listed home in prestigious Potts Point
- Four expansive levels showcase grandeur and heritage detail
- Sweeping panoramas of the city, harbour and Harbour Bridge
