A triumph in architectural mastery and design with iconic Sydney Harbour views, 'Airam' combines heritage elegance and state-of-the-art craftsmanship over five spectacular levels. Originally built in the 1890s and reimagined by the acclaimed architect Dennis Rabinowitz, it reveals cutting-edge interiors showcasing rich timber and recycled materials complemented by sleek contemporary finishes and walls of glass drawing the sunshine in. Oriented to capture magnificent views at every turn, it reveals a vast selection of formal and informal living and entertaining zones enjoying effortless indoor/outdoor transitions. The home features five expansive bedrooms, all of which are appointed with luxe ensuites, while further highlights include a sunbathed glass-edged heated pool as well as a commercial grade lift servicing all levels, self-contained guest accommodation and garaging for four cars.
