Set behind a charming Victorian facade, this end terrace brings together timeless character and modern comfort in one of Newtown's most connected pockets. Spread across two light filled levels, the home delivers a flowing floorplan designed for easy living and entertaining, with leafy outdoor space at the rear for those who love a private retreat.

Upon entry, you are greeted by a separate living room with air con before giving way to an open plan dining and gas kitchen, complete with timber benches and breakfast bar, setting the scene as the true heart of the home. The ground floor also features a main bathroom with clawfoot tub.

The first floor reveals two generously sized bedrooms, each with ceiling fans and air conditioning. One opens to a front balcony, while the other enjoys a large ensuite with bathtub and access to attic storage.

At the rear, a private entertaining area with additional pedestrian access, is framed by garden beds creates the perfect setting for gatherings or quiet downtime. Lifestyle is second to none here, just 330m from King Street's vibrant cafes and culture, with Camperdown Memorial Rest Park around the corner, RPA Hospital and Sydney Uni within walking distance, and Newtown Station only 750m away.
