164 New Ballina Road, Lismore

Sold for $640,000 (Feb 05, 2026)

Full of character and beautifully maintained, this older-style three-bedroom, two-bathroom home is rich in original charm and timeless appeal.

Featuring a well-preserved original kitchen, elegant French doors and additional sleepouts offering flexible accommodation or work-from-home options, the home presents in fantastic condition throughout.

Light-filled interiors, generous proportions and period details create a warm and inviting atmosphere, while the layout offers versatility for families, guests or creative use.

A rare opportunity to secure a character home where the charm has been lovingly retained and ready to be enjoyed as is or enhanced over time
